

Anderson Speech Consultants is currently seeking a contract full-time Speech-Language Pathologist. We provide a collaborative work environment with job flexibility and opportunities for career development. If you are passionate about your career, innovative, and think “outside the box” then this is the position for you.

Company Info

At Anderson Speech Consultants we believe in a collaborative approach to provide caring, innovative, and creative speech-language services for people of all ages and places, including locally, across Canada, and internationally. We build upon our clients’ strengths to create an individualized treatment plan. Our proven approach is far from one-size fits all.

In addition to the high quality service we provide in our clinic, we use advanced technology to conduct online therapy sessions, reaching clients in their most convenient location.

Key Responsibilities

- Start immediately
- Provide assessment and treatment to pediatric client who present with a broad range of communication difficulties, including those in remote First Nation Communities.
- Work with clients in remote areas using telepractice technology, as well at our office (Burlington, ON) and
- Able to work from home, as well as travel into the office when needed.
- Able to travel to First Nations Communities.

Qualifications

- In good standing with the College of Audiologists and Speech Language Pathologists of Ontario (CASLPO)
- Fluency in French is an asset
- Experience working with children who have speech-language and literacy concerns
- Skilled in completing formal and informal assessments, and then identifying client-centered treatment goals and detailed report.
- Skilled in providing individual and group therapy sessions
- Able to adapt assessment and treatment approach to the needs of clients, including clients of different cultural backgrounds
- Able to work well as part of a team including other Speech-Language Pathologists and Communicative Disorders Assistants
- Possess the flexibility and time-management skills necessary to manage an ever-changing caseload
- Able to creatively problem-solve to provide assessment and treatment programs catered to individual clients and settings (e.g. online)
- Comfortable with technology, including telepractice/video conferencing technology

- Strong computer skills, especially in Word, Excel, Powerpoint programs as well as Google drive
- Able to travel to Northern First Nations Communities, if necessary

*Mentorship opportunities are available for applicants in their Initial Practice Period.

Deadline for Application: January 31, 2018

Please email cover letter and resume to andersonspeechconsultants@gmail.com

Only selected candidates will be contacted for an interview.